

ARTISAN HIGHLIGHT | EVER

Farming and agriculture have been a part of 19-year-old Ever's family for as long as he can remember. The fourth generation farmer grew up helping his father grow beans and corn. In 2017, the young farmer joined Fabretto's SAT program and acquired agricultural knowledge with a specialization in beekeeping. He also developed entrepreneurial skills, which prompted him to organize a honey cooperative with other young people. Not only is he now able to help his father improve his farming techniques, but he is also able to produce 100% organic, high-quality honey and knows how to maintain healthy bees and hives.
