

ARTISAN HIGHLIGHT | PHILLIS

In the Marurui slum in Kenya, where food and jobs can be hard to find, Phillis struggled to provide for her children. Thankfully, she found the Marurui Community Initiative, a well-organized, safe workspace employing 14 other women in her community. Together, as the sole providers for their children, the women gather in fellowship to make beautiful, beaded necklaces and bracelets. The sales of these items have allowed Phillis to feed her children and send them to school! She now has hope for a better future.

HANDMADE IN KENYA

