

ARTISAN HIGHLIGHT | S'BONGA

As one of seven children to unemployed parents, Sibongaliphi, known as S'bonga, had to leave school in the fifth grade. He started helping his dad make sandals but low sales led him to join the Khutsula Artisans. Today, he is a supervisor for the beading team which makes the beaded giraffe, zebra and elephants sold in FMSC's MarketPlace. With his income, he helps his family pay for food and school fees for his siblings.
