

Dogcart Pulling Her New Husband

Bridegroom Has Dogcart Ride – Veterinary College Senior Weds Owner of Hospital for Pet Animals – Students Celebrate – Six weeks ago Charles Babcock, who is in his senior year at the Chicago Veterinary College, happened to think that soon he would be out of school bucking up against the proposition of making a living for himself.

He had heard of Dr. Elinor McGrath, whose cat and dog hospital at 3247 Indiana avenue is said to be quite a prosperous institution. So he thought he would go out and see her and ask her to give him a few pointers about getting on in the world.

Yesterday Dr. McGrath and Mr. Babcock were married. A few hours after the ceremony Mr. Babcock was waylaid while in the veterinary college, which is at 2537 South State street. He was tied into a cart behind a nervous hound. Three hundred students with enough animals to stock a two-ring circus paraded up to the bride's cat and dog hospital. There are fifty-two patients in the hospital. They raised their voices and joined in the charivari.

The bride appeared, smiled at the assemblage, and at her husband, and expressed herself as delighted with the entire procedure. – Chicago Tribune.
