

COOL HUNTING

DESIGN

Holiday Gift Guide 2015

17 NOVEMBER 2015

by CH EDITORS

---

Red and green may be the official adopted colors of the holiday season for many, but (like most) we are suckers for the allure of gold. For centuries, gold has been associated with royalty and luxury, and to this day, there's not much as sumptuous and extravagant as golden-hued goods. It's no surprise that we were so excited for the PAX limited edition gold release that we decided to create an entire gift guide full of golden goodies. From jewelry to playing cards and—of course—the limited edition PAX gold vaporizer—we have collected some of our favorite golden products to give this season.

Gold Eye Ring

Inspired by the founders' Egyptian background, the 14k gold vermeil Eye Ring ($200) is subtle but, of course, offers the wearer protection. The glistening deep blue and gold are offset by cut-out sections, making it a statement piece—contrasting delicacy with boldness. Helmed by three sisters, ANMARE sources materials locally and keeps all production in New York.