

THE BEAUTY EXPERT

ai re

SEP

Hot Dame!

Helen Mirren
Is the Hero
We Need

7 Things
That Get Better
With Age

Your Favorite Products

What Are You Really Paying For?

the end of
anti-AGING

OUR CALL TO THE INDUSTRY

BEAUTY REPORTER

AOA Wonder Jelly. Every decade or so a makeup-sponge innovation comes along that makes us excited about... makeup sponges. This squishy silicone pad has us (seamlessly) covered for the next 10 years. $1.

Kevyn Aucoin Exotique Diamond Eye Gloss in Galaxy. A few smudges of this gold-flecked black gel gives lids a smoldering look worthy of a black-tie gala. Or karaoke-and-trivia night at your local dive. $38.

RMS Beauty Wild With Desire Lipstick in Unbridled Passion, Pretty Vacant, and Breathless. You will find these new additions to the RMS cult: for their rich finish, for their flattering colors, for how damn good the coconut oil-rich formula makes your lips feel. $28 each.

EDITORS' FAVORITES

THE STUFF WE PLAN TO STEAL FROM THE BEAUTY CLOSET WHEN NO ONE'S LOOKING.

Tiffany & Co. Eau de Parfum. The delicate iris, the whiff of musk—everything about this fragrance is soft and pretty and exactly what you'd expect from the temple of good taste, right down to the little blue box. $100 for 1.7 ounces.

EOS Crystal Lip Balm in Hibiscus Peach and Vanilla Orchid. The trippy lava lamp vibe of these balms drew us in. But it's their silky glycerin and sweet scents that keep us coming back. $4.99 each.

BareMinerals BarePro Performance Wear Liquid Foundation. This lightweight—but full-coverage—formula mattifies without looking mask-y. $34.

Givenchy Noir Interdit Mascara. The hinged wand creates a 90-degree angle that lets you get every last inner and outer lash. $29.