VEGA BADENES VERDEJO

<https://gerrardseel.co.uk/products/vega-badenes-verdejo>

Vega Badenes Verdejo is a fresh and vibrant white wine for drinking either by itself or with a wide variety of foods. The light colour is a pale yellow with some green reflections. The aromas are fresh and lively with good floral notes above the light fruit. The palate is again fresh and vibrant with plenty of pure fruit to balance the refreshing acidity. A wine for almost every occasion, in our view it represents great value for money.

ABOUT THE GROWER

Vega Badenes is a modern Bodega based in La Mancha. It is just 15 years old yet in this time it has become one of the leaders in supplying high quality table wines in Spain.

However, the family history as fruit growers goes back three generations and they are also one of the largest producers of Olive Oil in Andalusia. All things are based on quality. They strive to offer high quality products at affordable prices and we hope you will agree with us that they have succeeded with the Tierra de Castilla wines we have selected for you.

The winery is based in Manzanares, close to Ciudad Real and boasts a production of 40 million litres per annum. Everything is high-tech as you would assume for such a young winery and this modernism ensures a strict quality control ensuring each bottle is perfect when it reaches you.
