

Fall has officially arrived! We hope all of our customers have had a productive summer and wanted to share a few exciting things that have been going on at BioBlend in the last few months. Read on for more information!

enviromax Continues to Reach New Heights with PLATINUM Material Health Certification

enviromax, a BioBlend and ThyssenKrupp Elevator co-developed biodegradable hydraulic oil, recently received a Platinum Level Material Health Certification from the Cradle to Cradle Products Institute. This is the first and only lubricant to be issued this prestigious certification. The C2C Products Institute works with manufacturers and third party toxicology organizations to review and identify chemical hazards and exposure considerations of a product's ingredients, which provides a clear and easy option for end users to choose chemically optimized products.

Earlier this year, ThyssenKrupp Elevator also earned an Environmental Leader Top Product of the Year Award for enviromax. It was recognized as being the elevator industry's first performance-improving, 100 percent recyclable, vegetable-based hydraulic fluid for use in hydraulic elevators. enviromax was considered by judges as an exemplary product to help organizations "negate their environmental and social risks."

Congratulations to ThyssenKrupp Elevator for these distinguished accomplishments!

New Acrylic Display Stands Available

BioBlend now has acrylic display stands available that are designed for use with BioBlend aerosol products. These new display stands have been used as counter and shelf displays in retail auto parts store locations, heavy equipment manufacturer service areas and showrooms, and multiple shipyard and marina stores with great success. It provides a professional, easy way for retailers to showcase their BioBlend aerosol product offering and quickly turn inventory. Please contact the BioBlend corporate office or your BioBlend representative for additional details.

BioBlend Welcomes Two New Distributors

With decades of experience serving customers throughout the Eastern US, PAPCO offers innovative lubricant solutions to their customers, which now includes the full line of BioBlend products. PAPCO continuously provides their customers with superior service and personalized care at every interaction.

Lewis and Raulerson has a long history of meeting the lubricant needs and challenges of their customers in the Waycross, GA area. They are an "Integrity Driven...Service Powered" organization that has added the BioBlend product line to their offering to better meet the needs of their growing customer base.

BioBlend would like to say, "Welcome aboard!" to both of these top notch distributors!

New GHS Safety Data Sheets Available

As many of you know, OSHA recently implemented the new Globally Harmonized System of Classification and Labelling of Chemicals on June 1, 2015. This updated regulation has resulted in the transition from Material Safety Data Sheets to a new format, now referred to as Safety Data Sheets, for all products. The newly formatted Safety Data Sheets can be obtained by contacting the BioBlend corporate office.

We look forward to rounding out 2015 with additional announcements that will be coming soon. As always, we appreciate your business and welcome the opportunity to connect. Click on the icons below to check out our improved website, send us an email, connect to our YouTube channel, or follow us on
