Storage and Shelf Life

For optimal results, product should be stored in refrigeration (between 32 and 45 degrees Fahrenheit) until first use to reduce oil separation.

Product may be stored at room temperature after opening.

Product should not be frozen, as freezing may permanently change texture and hasten oil separation. Condensation during and after cold storage may cause moisture damage to product label.

Product shelf-life is 2 years from date of manufacture. Minimum of 1 year shelf life is guaranteed upon first shipment from our distribution center.
