EDITORS' FAVORITES

ALL THE STUFF WE PLAN TO "BORROW" FROM THE BEAUTY CLOSET THIS MONTH.

1. OPI Nail Lacquer Mexico City Collection.

The blue walls of Frida Kahlo's home, the flamingo pink architecture of Luis Barragán—Mexico City vibrates with color. OPI's new 12-shade collection bottles the bright hues of Mexico's capital (one of our favorites: Coral-ing Your Spirit Animal).

2. Louis Vuitton California Dream.

The French sure know how to mythologize our western shores: Sunny mandarin and heady musk capture the sweet laziness of a day spent lounging on Coronado Beach.

3. LXMI 33 Face Oil. Soothing, dew-boosting Brazil nut oil, harvested in partnership with Conservation International, is an eco-friendly skin savior.

4. Lancôme Juicy Tubes. The world's most iconic lip gloss just turned 20, and the brand is celebrating with...champagne? Gâteau? Nope—20 fresh shades, including lots of poppy pinks and sultry roses (shown: Radio Lychee).

5. Noonday Collection Breezy Bow Scrunchie. The chicest and easiest way to wear bows in your hair: these colorful scrunchies, handmade by Indian artisans.

6. Saie Dew Balm. Liquid highlighters in holographic rose and berry shades (shown here in Lilac) double down on luminosity with moisturizing hyaluronic acid and jojoba esters.

7. Uhai Oil Blend. African baobab fruit makes this Liberia-born hair oil intensely hydrating without getting greasy (it doubles as an excellent body oil). Smooth a little over dry hair to swap frizz for shine.
