about us

Snacktivist® Foods is a women-owned, family-owned and operated food brand based in North Idaho.

We aim to reshape our global food economy, making food trends a vital part of the global regenerative agricultural movement.

Our brand is dedicated to bringing environmentally-friendly, ancient grains to the modern dinner table. We call it conscientious indulgence™.

We use superfood grains like millet, sorghum and teff that provide incredible flavor, texture and nutrition to our allergen-free products.

not what we leave out,
that matters”

food service bakery & bulk

Consumers try new and innovative foods at Food service. Chefs are the single most important culinary influencers in America.

Our products stand out for their bold flavors, great texture and ease of use in restaurants, cafes, bakery and juice bars.

Gluten-free, vegan foods have never been more simple to offer or create.

Just add water and oil to any of our products and provide your growing population of conscientious, health-focused consumers options they'll be excited about.

“I would say to other juice bars and cafes that are thinking about using [Snacktivist bulk mixes] that it’s totally 100% worth it.

“I would never switch to another product, ever again.”
