

2017 READING CHALLENGE

INSTRUCTIONS:

Whether you are a light reader or completely obsessed, this 2017 Reading Challenge is designed to help you read more and to broaden the scope of your reading.

The Reading Challenge is composed of four lists, which you move through progressively.

Begin with the Light plan, which includes suggestions for 13 books. Choose those books and read them in any order, checking them off as you complete them. When you have finished those 13, advance to the Avid plan. Use the criteria there to choose another 13 books and read them in any order. Then it's time to move to the Committed plan with a further 26 books. When you have completed the Committed plan (that's 52 books so far!), you are ready to brave the Obsessed plan with its 104 books. Be sure to set your goal at the beginning of the year and pace yourself accordingly.

IDEAS:

Take the challenge with your spouse and divide the list in two.

Take the challenge with your family and divide the books between the entire family.

Take the challenge with your youth group or small group and divide the books between all of you. Regularly report on your progress with short reviews.

Set your goal and read the books from all of your lists in any order (instead of progressing from Light to Avid to Committed).

Discard all the rules and choose books from any plan in any order. Use the 2017 Reading Challenge as a guide to diversifying your reading.

Have fun with it!
