Information

The Koskela Gallery is pleased to present, Cattle Station Christmas, a curated collection of works from Keringke Arts, Ngukurr Arts Centre and Tangentyere Artists.

Cattle Station Christmas highlights the significant role of First Nations peoples within the history of Australian cattle stations as local knowledge holders and traditional custodians of the land. This body of work playfully captures the rigors of station life from a First Nations perspective, featuring a series of sculptural pieces, canvases, and prints from across the Northern Territory.

“The stockman are looking after the cattle in the yard. Some stockman with the horse go and look for more cattle, there are having a talk outside the yard, talking to each other on what they are going to do.”

- Jill Daniels, Ngukurr Arts, describing her artwork: Cattle in the Yard (2021)

Ngukurr Arts is a unique place and space where artists explore, share, and develop their own distinctive styles.

Situated alongside the banks of the Roper River in Southeast Arnhem Land, the town of Ngukurr and the art centre alike have become a gathering place for many different language groups.

Tangentyere Artists is an Aboriginal owned and run art centre located in Alice Springs, Northern Territory. Tangentyere Artists provides a platform from which artists can express themselves, their lives, and cultural values, while enriching their community wellbeing and family livelihoods.

Founded in 1989, Keringke Art Centre is situated in the community of Ltyentye Apurte in the Central Australian region of the Northern Territory. Keringke Arts was named after a nearby ancient rock-hole that was formed when an ancestor Kangaroo travelled through the Country.

While the stories and imagery of this vast country, and its First Nations peoples, influence the works produced by Keringke artists, age old motifs, landscape forms and patterns of movement lay the groundwork for dynamic and contemporary artwork.
