Kauboi en Kaugel Kantri (Cowboy and Cowgirl Country)

Kauboi en Kaugel Kantri, which means Cowboy and Cowgirl Country in Kriol, includes 17 individual pieces that showcase Jill's talents across multiple mediums – paintings on canvas, works on paper and sculpture. All the works depict important stories and moments from her childhood, growing up on the remote cattle stations of Ngukurr in South East Arnhem Land.

A rising star in Australia's contemporary art scene, Jill Daniels is known for her ability to translate South East Arnhem Land's magnificent diversity of life into bright, bold and colourful works of art.

Her playful, poetic style has been noticed by patrons across the country. She's a member of the illustrious Ngukurr Arts collective and last year she was invited to participate in the critically acclaimed NATSIAA Salon des Refusés exhibition.
