Southern Crossbow was created to integrate the features of a tactical weapons platform with the modern compound crossbow. The Southern Crossbow Rebel 350's compound levering system and quiet cams make the 155lb draw weight and 350 fps arrow speed sure to turn heads on the range or in the field. The composite, ultra-stiff, split limb design offers exceptional power and durability. The Rebel 350 has an adjustable vertical grip, allowing the shooter better stability and accuracy. The Rebel 350's stock is modeled similar to that of a tactical weapon's system helping shooters easily transition from gun to bow without a substantial adjustment period; it is a composite stock with a rubber grip finish. The Rebel 350 comes packaged with: a 4x32 crossbow scope, a foot stirrup, four field tip arrows, a quick detach quiver, a sling, string wax and safety glasses. It has everything the shooter needs, right out of the box, to pick up and start shooting in minutes. Targets and prey not included.
