Ceramic Table Design by Muller Van Severen

HAY's successful collaboration with Muller Van Severen continues with the Ceramic Table – an outdoor table characterised by the designers' signature minimalistic expression combined with their bold use of colour. The familiar table archetype is clearly defined by the round porcelain table top and concrete base, which draws together a strong sense of proportions and solid presence of colour in the material. The table's simplicity and intuitive design language give it a universal appeal that makes it suitable for a wide range of cafés, gardens, and other private and public spaces.
