New additions to the modular Ark Sofa collection

Gentle arches, plump cushions and an airy base are all dominant character traits of Normann Copenhagen's modular sofa design, Ark, now expanded with the additions of the Ark Pouf and Ark Chaise Longue. Building on the design and flexibility of the existing modules, the addition of the Ark Pouf and Ark Chaise Longue further heightens the collection's adaptability and abundant possibilities, allowing users to curate their own unique seating arrangements to suit both style and space.

The chaise longue offers the opportunity to build the perfect lounging sofa, providing plenty of space for kicking your feet up and unwinding. The addition of the pouf completes the Ark Modular Sofa collection, offering a versatile and multifunctional module that aims to serve as a footrest, extra seating or even as a standalone statement piece.

These two new additions blend seamlessly with the existing pieces of the Ark collection, enabling users to create harmonious compositions with Ark's signature minimalistic elegance in both residential and commercial interiors.
