

Pro Audio Design Names John Krivit as Director of Education

Hanover, MA – Pro Audio Design (www.proaudiodesign.com) announces the hiring of industry leader John Krivit to the key position of Director of Education. In this capacity, John will helm the education division of Pro Audio Design. The announcement was made by Pro Audio Design President Dave Malekpour, who said that the newly launched division will “focus on assisting schools to develop music technology concentrations. We will offer strategic guidance on curriculums and instruction, accreditation and state licensure, faculty hiring and professional development, admissions and marketing, federal gainful employment requirements growth strategies and plans for facilities and technology that align with institutional success.”

John Krivit is a Past President of the international Audio Engineering Society (AES) and served from 2010 to 2015 as the Chair of the AES Education Committee. He is a connector of students, educators, artists and professionals. He has taught at Emerson College, Bay State College, and the New England Institute of Art and has given lectures around the world.

About Pro Audio Design

Pro Audio Design offers a unique resource for recordists at every level. By combining equipment sales, design and technical services under one roof, clients enjoy the advantage of having the PAD team bring visions to life. PAD approaches each client individually, bringing the right creative people together to deliver a complete and well-suited solution.

Contact

Pro Audio Design
John Songdahl, VP Sales & Marketing

781-616-6312

johns@proaudiodesign.com