

VOGUEchecklist

Gallery visits, geek-chic spectacles and a technology update make this month all about getting that little bit smarter...

Edited by TATIANA HAMBRO

Clear view

Wise up to stylish glasses! Let your inner nerd shine with these bright and beautiful frames.

DOLCE & GABBANA £224, AT HARRODS.COM

BURBERRY

GIORGIO ARMANI £190. AT DAVIDCLULOW.COM

SILHOUETTE £165, SILHOUETTE.COM

SOCIALIST REALISM AND POP ART IN THE BATTLEFIELD (1969), BY EQUIPO CRONICA

DIANE KORDAS ROSE-GOLD, WHITE-AND BLUE-DIAMONE AT HAPPODS AND

NEW

APP

ART & CULTURE

the TATE

If you haven't yet seen The World Goes Pop at Tate Modern, then put the date in your diary, pronto. The exhibition, which closes on January

24, takes a global perspective on

Seventies. Featuring artists from Latin America to Asia and the Middle East, it puts a fresh spin on a movement dominated by the British and American artists who produced images that most of us are already pop art from the Sixties and so familiar with, Tate.org.uk

NOUDAR ENAMEL AND DIAMOND RINGS, FROM £2,000, AT HARRODS

The smart watch has upped its game, with new models that disguise its digital soul. Follow our scale and trace the journey from fine jewellery to pure function.

KICK STARTER

New app TruBe provides on-demand workouts - including

Pilates, personal training and anteand post-natal sessions. One-off workouts start at £60 an hour, and clients can get 50 per cent off in January and February. Download the app at Trubeapp.com

ZALANDO.CO.UK