HOW TO WEAR COLOUR TO WORK

With the Spring / Summer 2014 runways awash with bright colours, here is our guide for how to wear it in the office

ORANGE

It is both cheerful and cool, and a loose fitting top paired with a slim-fit navy suit will keep the bold hue sophisticated. Keep accessories minimal and enjoy the excuse to wear flats – they complement a more laid-back look.

YELLOW

Make brighter shades office-appropriate by wearing them blended into a print. A masculine document holder creates a sleeker silhouette than a handbag and keeps a look feminine, not girly. A simple collared shirt is smart (without competing with the skirt) and nude heels suit any shade and make legs go on and on.

Double Prong Emerald Studs, £159, CARAT, Cabot Place

RED

Hobbs' Euphemia Dress is a perfect local find: the darker shade of red is office-appropriate while the shirt collar and cap sleeves are modest and on-trend, and the gathered waist and split skirt create a slimming fit without clinging. Bold shades are less forgiving, but shapewear will smooth any lumps or bumps. Pair with simple make-up and lips patted with a berry shade of lipstick.
