

Chatila rose-cut diamond, pink diamond, and pink gold ring, POA

ON THE ROSE

The rose-cut may be one of the older diamond cuts, not seen as often in contemporary jewellery, but this extraordinary 7.08 carat rose-cut diamond ring from Chatila goes to show that the cut can be as show-stopping as any modern style. Set in pink gold with a halo of pink diamonds, the softness of the cut is emphasised by its

ADLER'S NEW AGE

They may have had to vacate their Bond Street store due to building redevelopment, but heritage jewellers Adler still have an important presence in London with their focus shifting to private viewings - ideal for their high end, often bespoke product, like these extraordinary Shinsei earrings pitching vivid Paraiba tourmalines against cloud like patterns

From the ashes

London-based jeweller Dalia Daou has cleverly revived her family's jewellery brand which had clients like Brigitte Bardot and Grace Kelly in its heyday. She launched her new collection 'Phoenix' at Stephen Webster's Rock Vault during London Fashion Week, and these sweeping earrings in 18kt gold with smooth cabochon opals and diamonds are understandably the heroes

Showstopper

If it's all-out glamour you're after, look no further than Lorraine Schwartz at Harrods. The New Yorkbased designer beloved by Hollywood's A-list that sometimes it's a wonder any other jeweller gets a look in. And now, for the first time, Schwartz's dazzling collections are in the UK with an extensive corner of Harrods' new Fine Jewellery Room. harrods.com

IN LIVING COLOUR

Coloured diamonds have been making headlines recently due to the enormous amounts they're reaching at auction, but sometimes it's nice to see them actually set in jewellery. Asprey's collection of these vibrant beauties includes the rarest of the rare in both colour and cut, like this 3.13 carat, internally flawless, fancy vivid blue stone set in a ring of crisp white baguette-cut stones. asprey.com

Diane Kordas blue diamond and gold Star Jacket earring, £1,342

STARS IN HER EYES

Diana Kordas is the go-to jeweller for pieces as refined as they are luxurious - the sort of jewels you can just as easily sleep in as wear to a cocktail party. These gorgeously askew star-motif ear jackets come in vivid blue or bright white diamonds, and have as much impact worn singly as they do in a pair, matchesfashion.com
