

The Telegraph Magazine

16 March 2019

The great DNA handover
Are you ready to surrender your genes?

The identical twins
with identical houses
(and dogs and cars)

HOW TO GO SUPERNOVA

Natalia Vodianova's stellar new life

ADDITIONAL WORDS: SARAH ROYCE-GREENSILL, GETTY IMAGES

1 — 9ct-gold and onyx single earring, from £130, Otiumberg (otiumberg.com)
2 — Silver-finish earrings, from £670, Givenchy (givenchy.com)

ALL EARRINGS GREAT AND SMALL

▲ There are two major new earring trends to note and they represent extreme aesthetic opposites. Will you wear Otiumberg's 7mm stone-filled huggie hoops, dainty and fitted tight to the ear (top left)? Or are you more into Givenchy's maximalist mobiles (above), 22cm long and covered in spokes holding dramatic shards and beads?

RAINBOW BRIGHT

▲ Why choose one gemstone when you can wear several? 'When I first created my Rainbow Fireworks pieces, I wasn't sure how people would react, but they are some of my bestselling designs,' says LA-based jeweller Suzanne Kalan, who experiments with brightly coloured sapphires. Diane Kordas has a rainbow version of her whisper-thin choker this season, while Chelsea jeweller Robinson Pelham encourages its customers to be bold and have fun with its technical-colour disco hoops. SR-G

1 — Sapphire, tsavorite and diamond earrings, £9,700, Robinson Pelham (robinsonpelham.com)
2 — 18ct-gold, sapphire and diamond ring, £840, Suzanne Kalan (net-a-porter.com)
3 — 18ct-rose-gold and sapphire choker, £7,308, Diane Kordas (dianekordasjewellery.com)

FROM THE HEART

▲ Kitsch 1980s-style heart pendants were plumped-up on the catwalk, worn on huge gold chains at Escada (above) and in the form of giant hoop earrings at Balenciaga. The heart motif is back – and ours is skipping a beat.

1 — Clip-on earrings, £295, Escada (escada.com)
2 — Single earring, £195, Balenciaga (net-a-porter.com)
3 — Bracelet, £375, Escada (escada.com)

➔➔➔
BETTER TOGETHER
Spring has sprung, sleeves are getting shorter and it's time to up our wrist game. An artful stack of watch and bracelet or bangle is ideal – keep it classic by coordinating metal colours, or mix it up: there are no rules. Here are three pairings to try. SR-G

Yellow

C36 Date watch, £400, Uniform Wares (farfetch.com)

+

18ct gold bracelet, £4,475, Tiffany (tiffany.co.uk)

White

Stainless-steel, mother-of-pearl and diamond Constellation watch, £2,720, Omega (omegawatches.com)

+

Sterling-silver bracelet, £380, Birks (goldsmiths.co.uk)

Rose

Mother-of-pearl and rose-gold-tone watch, £279, Emporio Armani (ernestjones.co.uk)

+

18ct-rose-gold-vermeil and diamond cuff, £195, Monica Vinader (monicavinader.com)