Marli New York

Rapidly growing luxury jewelry brand Marli New York has gained the enthusiasm of the fashion world globally for its architecturally inspired jewelry designs that boast modern elegance and glamour. The brand's first U.S. retail location is now open in Manhattan's illustrious Hudson Yards mall, housing an exclusive lounge for VIP clientele as well as administrative space for personnel operations. Customers can experience Marli New York's sophisticated, handcrafted 18K gold collections, ranging from necklaces and rings to bracelets and earrings for every occasion. "The design is bold, modern and uplifting," says Maral Artinian, founder and creative director of the Marli New York flagship store. "The experience we have created caters to the decisive, confident Marli woman who appreciates thoughtfully curated options for enhancing her distinctive sense of style." 20 Hudson Yards, marlinewyork.com

Diane Kordas

Dedicated to the belief that jewelry should be casual yet timeless, Diane Kordas (dianekordasjewellery.com) designs classic pieces that can work effortlessly on the red carpet as well as paired with jeans and a sweatshirt. Diane Kordas' innovative approach to material and color, through the incorporation of leather and various gemstones, continuously catches people's attention. "Inspiration for my collections derives from various sources such as architecture, art and history, along with childhood memories," says Kordas. The fine jewelry brand's popular Animal Kingdom collection is launching new additions to the line this holiday season, retaining the elusive cool-girl aesthetic that is signature to all of Diane Kordas' creations.

"I remember slipping into my mother's jewelry box as a young girl and being obsessed with a gold ring emblazoned with a diamond cougar," says Kordas. "All but a forgotten memory, it was many years later one night working at my office in London [that] this hypnotic, talismanic ring inspired my Animal Kingdom collection."
