

Bedrocan Canada and Canadian Cannabis Clinics Address Toronto Cannabis Patients

Legal, regulated and affordable cannabis is easily accessible in Toronto, now with Same-day Delivery

May 24th, 2016

Toronto, ON – Canopy Growth Corporation (Canopy Growth) (TSX.V: CGC), parent company of licensed cannabis producers Tweed and Bedrocan Canada, is pleased to advise that Bruce Linton, the Chairman & CEO of Canopy Growth and Ronan Levy, Executive Director of Canadian Cannabis Clinics, will today be addressing cannabis patients in Toronto seeking access to medical cannabis.

At a press conference to be held at 11:00 am at Toronto City Hall, Linton and Levy will clarify that as Torontonians and Toronto City Council wrestle with the issue of illegal dispensary proliferation across the City, a legal, affordable and accessible source for medical cannabis exists right here in Toronto.

Bedrocan Canada, based in Toronto, produces regulated, quality-controlled medical cannabis, with all cannabis varieties now priced at only $5 per gram under Bedrocan's sector-leading True Compassionate Pricing, which ensures affordability for all cannabis patients. Moreover, today, Bedrocan Canada is announcing same-day delivery for legally registered patients in Toronto.

“Torontonians who are seeking a reliable supply of medical cannabis can now turn to the most affordable solution in the City, delivered same-day to their door, and rest assured there is no question about the legality and origins of their cannabis supply,” said Linton. “Working with partners like Canadian Cannabis Clinics, we can ensure that any patient who requires access to doctors specializing in cannabis as a treatment, can find the support they need to access the legal system where medically appropriate.”

Canadian Cannabis Clinics offers a variety of services to ensure that Torontonians seeking to discuss medical cannabis with a healthcare practitioner can find the support they need. “There is a misconception that finding a doctor knowledgeable in cannabis medicine is a challenge for Torontonians,” said Levy. “But with six clinic locations across the GTA, and seventeen across Ontario, patients can get the support they need and quickly and easily register with a legal, regulated supply of cannabis through companies such as Bedrocan Canada and Tweed. Best of all, the appointments are covered by OHIP so there is absolutely no fee to the patient to see one of our physicians.”

As Torontonians and policy-makers seek out solutions to address the growing concern over unregulated dispensaries selling cannabis throughout Toronto, they should know that high-quality, affordable, Toronto-produced cannabis is legally accessible. Now with same day delivery.

Bruce Linton and Ronan Levy will be available to answer questions at Toronto City Hall at 11:00 AM today.

To learn more about accessing a doctor or registering with Bedrocan Canada, please visit bedrocan.ca/register, call Bedrocan at 1-855-420-7887, or call Canadian Cannabis Clinics at 647.490.4744 or by email at hello@cannabisclinics.ca.

About Bedrocan Canada's new Toronto Same-day Delivery Service

Starting Thursday May 26th, Bedrocan Canada will be offering same-day delivery to its registered customers located within Toronto (i.e., a postal code starting with "M"). Customers who place their order by noon will receive their order by 8pm on the same day, while patients ordering after noon will be able to receive their order in the morning the following day. Same-day delivery builds on Bedrocan Canada's commitment to focusing on patients' needs, customer service, and affordability. Full details will be available shortly at www.bedrocan.ca.

About Bedrocan Canada and Canopy Growth Corporation

Bedrocan Canada is a wholly owned subsidiary of Canopy Growth Corporation, and operates under license from Bedrocan BV in the Netherlands. Bedrocan's standardized strains have been used by thousands of patients in seven countries around the world.

Canopy Growth Corporation is Canada's first publicly traded medical marijuana company and the first geographically diversified producer with multiple licenses under the Marihuana for Medical Purposes Regulations. Through its wholly owned subsidiaries, Tweed, Tweed Farms, and Bedrocan Canada, the Company operates three state-of-the-art production facilities in Ontario and distributes marijuana across the country to Canadian patients managing a host of medical conditions. The Company is dedicated to educating healthcare practitioners, providing consistent access to high quality medication, conducting robust clinical research, and furthering the public's understanding of how marijuana is used for medical purposes. www.canopygrowth.com

About Canadian Cannabis Clinics

Canadian Cannabis Clinics (CCC) is Canada's largest network of medical clinics specializing in the assessment of patients for medical cannabis. With 17 locations across Ontario -- including Burlington, Collingwood, Etobicoke, Hamilton, Guelph, Kingston, Kitchener-Waterloo, London, Markham, Mississauga, Ottawa, St.

Catharines, Sudbury, Toronto (Annex), Toronto (Danforth), Whitby and Windsor -- CCC is Canada's recognized authority in the safe and prudent prescription of cannabis as medicine.

Media Contact:

Jordan Sinclair
Communications Manager

Jordan@tweed.com

613-769-4196

Director:

Bruce Linton
Chairman and CEO

tmx@tweed.com

855-558-9333