aul is self taught and was inspired to become a jewellery designer during his travels in Asia

He uses a variety of innovative techniques to create distinctive jewellery, characterised by its simplicity and elegance.

paul finch

He has a love of strong form and uses few embellishments, preferring to contrast colour and texture into organic flowing forms that are both durable and comfortable to wear

He enjoys working with silver and semi-precious stones but also uses 18ct gold and diamonds

Argenteus supports a wide and diverse group of designers at all levels of their career. We work closely with them to enhance their huge creative potentials. Our design and quality control brief is applied to these and all collections shown in our stores which means that you can be sure that the work is of the highest standard as well as unique and individual - just like our customers!

Telephone 08454 560 460 (Local Rate email customerservices@argenteus.co.u

