Certification of RoHS(3) Compliance

July 18, 2019

ACUPWR certifies that to the best of our knowledge all parts manufactured and shipped by us are in compliance with the European RoHS/ RoHS3 Directive 2015/863/EU.

We, the undersigned, declare under our responsibility that ACUPWR product(s) containing the below logo on the packaging conform to the Reduction of Hazardous Substances (RoHS).

RoHS (Restriction of certain Hazardous Substances) directive helps reduce the environmental impact as new technologies are developed and electronic products are discarded. By controlling the use of lead soldering, harmful plastics and other toxic chemicals in the production of electronics, RoHS prevents contamination of soil and groundwater, saving health of those living near the landfill.
