Bringing home the bacon

Who doesn't love bacon? Or a bacon spread for that matter? Paleo-inspired snack company, The Snack Guru, has crafted a jam made with their secret recipe, which includes a blend of coffee, cinnamon, cocoa and bacon. Since this is a paleo jam, it has no sugar, preservatives, gluten or any additives. The Snack Guru recommends having it together with their paleo bread, although it goes well with anything from eggs to crackers.

Available at www.snackguru.com.sg for $5.80.

Sweet Little Things

While most tomatoes have a Degrees Brix level (measurement of sugar density) of up to 6°Bx, Marusho tomatoes boast a high score of up to 13°Bx. The Marusho farm in Japan exports only 70 boxes of these small and bright vegetables three to four days after harvest, exclusively to Ethan's Gourmet every month. They usually sell out in about two weeks or less and are only in season from October to May.

Available at Ethan's Gourmet for $5.90 per pack.
