

Listing of Hackle Color's

Following the amalgamation of the regiments of the Scottish Division to form The Royal Regiment of Scotland on 28 March 2006, the following hackles are being worn by the regiment's constituent battalions:

- Royal Scots Borderers (1 SCOTS): Black
- Royal Highland Fusiliers (2 SCOTS): White
- Black Watch (3 SCOTS): Red
- The Highlanders (4 SCOTS): Blue
- Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders (5 SCOTS): Green
- 52nd Lowland Regiment (6 SCOTS): Grey
- 51st Highland Regiment (7 SCOTS): Purple
- Royal Regiment of Fusiliers: Red over white
- Royal Highland Fusiliers (a battalion of the Royal Regiment of Scotland): White

Former non-fusilier regiments, now amalgamated, which also wore the hackle were:

- 40 (Ulster) Regiment, Royal Corps of Signals: Navy blue, sky blue and green.
- Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders: (feather bonnet only - Drummers and Drum Major): White
- Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders: (Pipers only) Black Cock Feather
- Black Watch: Red
- The Cameronians (Scottish Rifles): Black
- Gordon Highlanders: Feather bonnet only - Drummers and Drum Major: White, Bandsmen: Red and White
- Gordon Highlanders: (Pipers only) Black Cock Feather
- Highland Light Infantry: White over red
- The Highlanders (Seaforth, Gordons and Camerons): Royal blue
- The Highlanders (Seaforth, Gordons and Camerons): (feather bonnet only - Drummers and Drum Major) White
- The Highlanders (Seaforth, Gordons and Camerons): (Pipers only) Eagle feather
- Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders: Royal blue
- Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders: (feather bonnet only - Drummers and Drum Major) White
- Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders: (Pipers only) Eagle feather
- Queen's Own Highlanders (Seaforth and Camerons): Royal blue

- Queen's Own Highlanders (Seaforth and Camerons): (feather bonnet only - Drummers and Drum Major) White
- Queen's Own Highlanders (Seaforth and Camerons): (Pipers only) Eagle feather
- Queen's Royal Irish Hussars (pipers on caubeen only): White over red
- Royal Irish Rangers: Green
- Royal Corps of Transport (pipers on feather bonnet only): Red over white over blue
- Royal Ulster Rifles: Black
- Seaforth Highlanders (feather bonnet only - Drummers and Drum Major): White
- Seaforth Highlanders (Pipers only) Black Cock Feather
- No. 9 Commando and No. 11 (Scottish) Commando: Black

Historic fusilier regiments

There were several other fusilier regiments which have been amalgamated and no longer exist. The hackle colors worn were as follows:

- Lancashire Fusiliers: Primrose yellow
- Royal Fusiliers (City of London Regiment): White
- Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers: Grey
- Royal Irish Fusiliers: Green
- Royal Northumberland Fusiliers: Red over white
- Royal Scots Fusiliers: White
- Royal Warwickshire Fusiliers: Blue over Gold
- Royal Welch Fusiliers: White

Non-Fusilier Regiments

- Soldiers of the Royal Irish Regiment
- Non-fusilier regiments which wear the hackle are:
- Irish Guards (pipers on caubeen only): St Patrick's blue
- Liverpool Scottish (now a platoon of A (King's) Company, King's and Cheshire Regiment): Royal blue
- Liverpool Irish (now A Troop of 208 Battery, 103rd Regiment Royal Artillery): Blue over red
- London Irish Rifles (now D (London Irish Rifles) Company, London Regiment): Green [Pipers wear St Patrick's blue]
- Royal Irish Regiment (as the direct descendent of two regiments of fusiliers): Green

- Royal Scots Dragoon Guards (on pipers' feather bonnet in Full Dress, pipers' / drummers' glengarry /atholl bonnet in No.1 and No.2 dress): White
- Royal Welsh (Other Ranks only): White
- Scots Guards (pipers on feather bonnet only): Blue over red
- The Queen's University Officers' Training Corps: St Patrick's Blue (A Coy Caubeen Only)
- Royal Air Force (pipe band only): Blue

Other armies

Dutch Army

- Regiment Stoottroepen Prins Bernhard: Black
- Korps Commandotroepen: Black
- Regiment Limburgse Jagers: Red
- Regiment Infanterie Oranje Gelderland: Red
- Korps Luchtdoelartillerie Black over red

Canadian Army

- The Princess Louise Fusiliers: French grey
- The Royal Highland Fusiliers of Canada: White
- Royal 22e Régiment: Red (not otherwise considered a fusilier regiment, they wear fusilier full dress because of their alliance with the Royal Welch Fusiliers)

Scottish-influenced non-fusilier regiments which wear the hackle include:

- 48th Highlanders of Canada (feather bonnet only): White
- The Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders of Canada (Princess Louise's) (drummers on feather bonnet only): White
- The Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada: Red
- The Calgary Highlanders (drummers on feather bonnet only): White [3]
- The Cameron Highlanders of Ottawa (Duke of Edinburgh's Own): Royal blue
- The Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) (drummers on feather bonnet only): White
- The Essex and Kent Scottish (feather bonnet only): White
- The Lorne Scots (Peel, Dufferin and Halton Regiment): Primrose yellow

- The Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders of Canada: Royal blue (except pipers in full dress, who wear an eagle feather instead).
- The Seaforth Highlanders of Canada (drummers on feather bonnet only): White
- Irish-influenced non-fusilier regiments which wear the hackle (on the caubeen):
- 2nd Battalion, Irish Regiment of Canada: Green (light blue for senior NCOs and officers)

Indian Army

In the Indian Army, a few selected infantry regiments wear the hackle:

- Brigade of the Guards: Red over yellow
- The Grenadiers: White
- Kumaon Regiment: Green
- Mahar Regiment: Dull cherry
- Maratha Light Infantry: Red over green
- Naga Regiment: Orange
- Rajput Regiment: Maroon over red
- National Cadet Corps: Red

New Zealand Army

- Canterbury, and Nelson-Marlborough and West Coast Regiment: Green

Malaysian Army

- Royal Military College: Red (to be worn on Annual Passing Out parade only)
- Royal Ranger Regiment: Black

Pakistan Army

- The Punjab Regiment: Green
- The Sindh Regiment: Red
- Northern Light Infantry: White with ceremonial headgear only
- Cadets at Pakistan Military Academy: Red over Green
- 9th Battalion, Azad Kashmir Regiment: Red (commemorates the action in the Leepa Valley, Kashmir in 1972)
- South African Army
- Scottish- and Irish-influenced regiments which wear the hackle include:
- South African Irish Regiment: Green
- Transvaal Scottish Regiment: Red

- Witwatersrand Rifles: Black

United States Army

- United States Military Academy: Cadet Officers wear black hackles in their Shako for parades.