Soft Baby Shoes Collection

Recommended by Orthopedic Doctors

Nowadays, more and more people – professionals and parents too - recognize the significance of their children's first shoes. It really makes great difference what shoes the fragile, tiny baby feet wear. Those shoes which are not suitable for their feet can cause lifelong deformation.

A significant part of the experts nowadays suggest that the child be barefoot as much as possible since this ensures the cartilage and muscles of the baby's feet to develop properly. However is not always possible to be barefoot!

The Liliputi shoes are soft-soled as if the child is barefoot but at the same time still protect him/her from mechanical damage and also from the unpleasantness of cold (or hot) surfaces.

In the Liliputi soft soled leather shoes children learn to walk in a way that:

- Every little part of the sole is activated in the process of walking, which strengthens the foot muscles thus preventing from the most common orthopedic foot problems, like flat feet
- They feel the uneven ground with their sole, which greatly contributes to the development of their balance and coordination.
- The reflex zones of the feet are stimulated during walking, which has a positive impact on the entire body.

"I recommend Liliputi shoes, as a perfect alternate of being barefoot"

"This is the first footwear that my daughter does not want to take off. Apparently, they are very comfortable for her, she walks courageously and confident in them, unlike in her previous shoes."

We receive a lot of feedback from parents, sharing information about how much more confident and stable their children's walk in Liliputi shoes. Many of them praised the „easy to give up“ character of our shoes, and also the fact that their kids don't want to take them off.

Perhaps the greatest accomplishment for us, however, is fact that children do not want to take their shoes off, but - as dozens of reports show - that they carry them to their parents telling without words that they want them to put on their Liliputi shoes...

"Since we bought our Liliputi shoes, my little son refuses to take them off. Especially in bedtime it is difficult for us to persuade him to take them off, and in the mornings he comes simperingly bringing his shoes to put them on. It is really unbelievable..."

Safety, Quality & Environment

Our shoes are made of first-class raw materials, which originate one and all from the European Union, as well as the shoes themselves. We comply with all EU standards at the highest level, and if it is possible we overfulfill both the yields and the environment protection.

One of the most important issues for us is the unique quality of our products. The leathers we use are soft and also durable. During the process of production we take into consideration the highest quality standards. As a result, the Liliputi shoes will certainly be able to serve the little brother or sister, too...

Liliputi shoes are packed in boxes made of recycled paper, and at shipping we also use exclusively recycled packaging materials. During the manufacturing and material purchasing processes, we pay heed to the importance of protecting the environment. In case of a need we mend the shoes during the warranty time instead of replacing them... Hereby we feel and take total responsibility for assuring a livable environment for the future generations...

The Shape of Lilliputi Shoes

The upper side of the shoes is natural, soft but resistant, made of high-quality nappa leather. Because of the excellent breathing character of the leather, the child's feet do not sweat in the shoes.

The sole has three layers: Between the non-slip suede soles and the inner leather lining a layer of 3mm elastic foam provides insulation and reduces the pressure on the joints, while running on hard ground.

The shoes are easy to get on by using the flexible ankle band, which stays fixed.

We design the toe of the shoe in a way that it provides enough space for the free movement of toes, and helping a free feet development.

The Lilliputi story

The career of the Lilliputi shoes started in 2007, when our daughter started to walk and we had to face to the problem that we can not find suitable shoes in our domestic supply. Her first soft-soled shoes came as an oversea gift from our friends and we immediately knew that this was the direction that we have to follow in our vision.

Although we loved these shoes but were not fully satisfied with them. The single leather sole often proved inadequate on the cold stone. We also felt that was too much pressure on the joints.

With these circumstances the first Lilliputi shoes were to be born, and since we have refined them so that they finally fully satisfy us...
