GetInTouch

Introducing GetInTouch, a wellbeing focused artist residency hosted by Little Company.

A community of connected individuals exchanging creative ideas and inspiration from a state of deep rest and regulation.

Inspired by a desire to create a community of connected individuals and hold space for the exchange of creative ideas and inspiration, GetInTouch was born.

With principles of connection, restoration and creativity at the helm of this project, we aspire to demonstrate how a rested and regulated nervous system can support the creative process.

GetInTouch is an intimate platform that will enable creatives to experience deeper rest and relaxation through Little Company facials, massage, LED light therapy and meditation. Encouraging them to reflect on and document how this improves access to creative and inspired states of being and how creative and connected states might provide an antidote to the isolation and disconnection we have collectively experienced over the last few years.

From the time of your Little Company experience, you agree that the exchange of work will take place within 2 weeks. If more time is required or there is a delay in your work, it is expected that you will communicate with the Little Company team via email – workingtogether@littlecompany.com.au. Please be honest and forthright with your time and commitments as we manage the residency program and a range of artists across Australia.

Once you have exchanged your work with Little Company, you agree to showcase your piece within the respected Little Company studio, which will then be auctioned off at the end of the month to a local charity organisation. Your name, contact details and social media handles will be displayed alongside your work within Little Company.

Body Song

written by Shannon Powell

Let your body
find rhythm
find song

write notes into the cello string of a spine.

Let your body sing time signatures of a melody unbound.

Let your body sing
into a mouth of neatly fitted pearls.

Let your body pull the string watch them tumble to the pelvic floor shifting gravity like lightning like a pirouette.

Let your body
undo

go gently don't go gently tremble at the tailbone

undress the knees
peel back the heels.

Let your body become larger than its container.

Let your body hold song hold image hold possibility greater than its borders.
