

Health & Safety

The health and wellbeing of our staff and Little Company community has and always will be our highest priority. Although we have always implemented stringent cleaning and hygiene practices within our studios, we will be taking extra precautions during this period. It has never been more important to prioritise our own health and wellbeing in order to be prepared to support the health and wellbeing of others. With this in mind, we are committed to supporting you in and out of our studios.

Little Company Health & Safety Procedures

WHAT WE'RE DOING

- We will continue to prioritise the health and wellness of our staff, as well as provide them with up-to-date advice and guidelines to best support their clients. We have requested that if any team member feels unwell, that they notify us immediately and remain at home.
- We have re-trained all team members and prepared them on increased hygiene standards.
- We will ensure that you are able to sanitise your hands upon arrival.
- All Little Company staff will be wearing PPE masks unless they have received a medical exemption from their health care provider.
- After each treatment, the bed is reset with new linen and towels. This is a standard practice within Little Company.
- All equipment, including bowls, brushes, spatulas, and extractors are washed in antimicrobial soap and disinfected.
- All LED machines will be disinfected between each client and our cleansing products, including cotton pads, will be refreshed after each client to reduce potential contamination.
