AIR-DRYING PROCESS

The irresistible beef jerky texture of our nourish food is the result of our gentle air-drying process at our state-of-the-art facilities in New Zealand. Nourish is gently air-dried at low temperatures, in small batches, to naturally preserve the meat without using artificial preservatives or added sugars. Our unique air-drying process provides an 18-month shelf life, keeping the ingredients fresh, while maintaining their nutritional content. This means your pet receives all the benefits of over 90% real, raw meat along with added coconut oil, vitamins, and minerals. It's also highly palatable, easily digestible, and provides the added value of unprocessed raw food without the mess. And to make life easier for pet parents, nourish is easy to feed - straight from the bag to the bowl.

KIBBLE VS AIR-DRIED JERKY

Nourish jerky-style meat has a much lower moisture level than kibble - meaning a lower risk of mold. Kibble is also highly processed and each meat or protein is individually stabilized with preservatives. With air-dried, we only add natural preservatives at the end of our process giving it more nutritional value.

All of this makes a complete and balanced high-quality, premium meal designed for a healthy beautiful life.
