

Making the world a happier place, one vulva at a time.

Dame Products was founded by women to close the pleasure gap.
We develop well-researched toys for sex that encourage vulnerability, heighten intimacy, and add value to the sexual experiences of humankind.

Dame

Our Philosophy

We believe sex toys should satisfy real people's desires. Instead of starting with a flashy feature or a kooky shape, we begin our design process with focus groups, interviews, and research. If it doesn't fit into your sex life, then it doesn't fit on our roadmap.

Our Founders

Alexandra Fine

Co-founder and CEO

From a young age, Alex's fascination with sexuality fueled her curiosity to learn about and discuss the often taboo subjects of our bodies and desires. After earning her Masters in Clinical Psychology with a concentration in sex therapy from Columbia University, Fine decided to apply her passion and expertise to the out-of-date sex toy industry.

She began developing her own vibrator concept, hoping to solve a very real problem and start necessary conversations. The result was Eva, Dame Products' debut product and a viral sensation that made clitoral stimulation a mainstream discussion. Since then, Fine has worked with her co-founder Janet Lieberman (Chief Product Officer) to create toys for sex using rigorous R&D and the help of Dame Labs, a community of product testers and pleasure afficiandos.

Janet Lieberman

Co-founder and Chief Product Officer

Janet Lieberman, Dame Products' CPO, took her mechanical engineering degree from MIT and dove into a career creating a vast array of unique products, from dustpans to bath thermometers. Lieberman designed 3D printers at Z Corporation and Makerbot, serving as the lead engineer and project manager for MakerBot's award-winning Replicator Mini Compact Desktop 3D Printer.

After a number of years, she noticed a pattern: vibrators weren't being developed or manufactured to the same standards as other consumer goods. A firm believer that you must be the change you want to see in the world, Lieberman founded Dame Products to give the sextech industry the product development acumen it desperately needs.
