

Badia Spices Expands Organic Line-up

Debuts New Product Packaging

Society as a whole has become more health conscious about the foods we eat. Consumers are much more in tune with the origin and processes of the foods they purchase and introduce into their homes. The public demand for organic foods has never been greater. Realizing how important clean eating is to its consumers, Badia Spices launched its organic spice line in 2008, and has now expanded the line from 11 to 22 products. What's more, Badia's entire organic line now sports a new look with a distinct label and easy to use lid. Now all types of cooks will have a larger variety to select from when choosing to buy of organic spices.

The 11 new items are: Organic Basil Leaves, Organic Bay Leaves, Organic Crush Red Pepper, Organic Italian Seasoning, Organic Rosemary, Organic Thyme Leaves, Organic Cinnamon Sticks, Organic Cumin Ground, Organic Curry Powder, Organic Paprika, and Organic Chili Powder.

Due to the overwhelming success of Badia's Health Center items, like Chia, Flax, Trilogy and Hemp, Badia is now expanding the line to include Bee Pollen, Crystalized Ginger, Chia Ground, organic Chia Ground in the Gallon Size, and organic Olive Oil, which will compliment Badia's Health Center Program.

Badia Spices organic line certified by QAI (Quality Assurance International), a USDA-accredited certifying agency (ACA), approved to provide organic certification in accordance with the USDA's National Organic Program. Certification is important to consumers, the industry and the regulatory community in order to assure organic integrity from farm to retail shelf.

■ THE NEW ITEMS join Badia's current organic line which includes: Organic Cinnamon, Organic Turmeric Powder, Organic Oregano, Organic Mustard Powder, Organic Celery Seed, Organic Cayenne Pepper, Organic Garlic Powder, Organic Onion Powder, Organic Black Sesame Seed, Cardamom Whole and Organic Ground Black Pepper. All products are currently available in multiple sizes; orders can be placed by emailing salesupport@badiaspices.com.

World of Chia Premium Fruit Spreads

Full of Fiber, Protein, and Diabetic-Friendly Great Taste

Consume more fruits and vegetables is a health directive that many people find hard to follow. Unappealing taste is often cited as a factor in one's inability to get their recommended nine servings per day. World of Chia is making that goal easier to achieve with a line of fruit spreads that incorporate natural chia seeds instead of industrial pectin into each daily serving of tasty fruit they offer. World of Chia recently launched its Omega 3, fiber and protein rich fruit spreads.

One could derive all these advantages from eating the seeds alone, but the general public frequently describes chia seeds as being tasteless. Enter World of Chia, which incorporates chia seeds into a line of great-tasting fruit spreads. On top of all the healthful benefits outlined by the magazine, chia seeds also help release sugars into the body's bloodstream slowly. Therefore, World of Chia Premium Fruit Spreads aid in avoiding the sugar spikes associated with other sugary jams. This glucose-regulating ability is enhanced by the natural and organic agave syrup with which the spreads are sweetened. A low glycemic index sweetener, agave is acceptable for diabetic persons. In fact, World of Chia Fruit Spreads contain only 5g of sugar per serving.

Recently named one of Prevention's "Cleanest Packaged Foods," World of Chia Premium Fruit Spreads are all natural, with no added acids, pectin, gluten, high fructose corn syrup, preservatives, colorants and flavors. They are also naturally acidified with lime juice. Made in the USA and affordably priced. Each premium 10.9-ounce jar contains only four ingredients and retails for $5.99 to $6.99. World of Chia Premium Fruit Spreads are available in strawberry, raspberry and blackberry flavors as well as a three-pack of all three flavors.

Go Gourmet Introduces

Creamy Banana Chocolate Slammers Superfood Snacks

Go Gourmet has introduced its newest organic Superfood smoothie snack in time for summer: Creamy Banana Chocolate. Little Acre Gourmet Foods

Specialty Condiments Perfect for BBQs

In time for Fall barbequing season, Little Acre Gourmet Foods' line of specialty condiments is now available to customers nationwide. Little Acre's distinctive, all-natural, gluten-free condiments, including Balsamic & Fig Whole Seed Mustard, Sweet & Savory Onions, Bourbon & Berry Cranberry Sauce, Three Pepper Ketchup and more, are available online and can be shipped in time for Labor Day BBQ holidays.

Produced in small batches in Meredith, New Hampshire, every Little Acre product is handcrafted by the husband and wife team of Trina and Bill Ahrens. The pair uses ingredients that are natural and gluten-free to make their flavor combinations. There are no artificial colors or flavors and all Little Acre condiments are vegetarian-friendly.

The Original Whole Seed Mustard is a texture and flavor bomb with its natural, nutty pop of the mustard seeds. Use it on corned beef, pork, charcuterie, sausages, burgers, hot dogs, and sandwiches. Great in salad dressings, deviled eggs, or recipes that call for whole grain mustard.

The Balsamic & Fig Whole Seed Mustard balances tangy, aged balsamic vinegar and sweet figs with a hint of garlic. Use it as a glaze on salmon and swordfish, and spread it on crackers and cheese to take your hors d'oeuvres to the next level. Both mustards are available for $6 per 4.2oz jar.

The Three Pepper Ketchup transforms a classic condiment into a fresh addition to the kitchen pantry - it's a marriage of ketchup, cocktail sauce, and salsa made with three types of peppers and red, ripe tomatoes. The ketchup comes in three spice levels - Original, Spicy, and More Spicy. All three flavors are available for $8 per 9oz jar.

Each jar of Sweet & Savory Onions is made with fresh onions, red bell pepper, and tomatoes. Try it on a turkey sandwich, or with any beef or veggie burger next time you fire up the grill. The onion condiment is available for $7 per 7oz jar.

Little Acre's Bourbon & Berry Cranberry Sauce pairs smooth Southern bourbon and tart cranberries to create a deep, bold flavor. Especially delicious with roast turkey or as a glaze on grilled chicken. The sauce can also be used as a jam or preserve. It's also at home on a bagel with cream cheese.

It's a must for the Thanksgiving dinner table and as a leftover-turkey revitalizer. Available for $7 per 7.5oz jar.
