

SCIENTIFIC TESTING SOURCES FOR KITCORE LABS ENERGY INFUSION TECHNOLOGY

Organic Technology is the new face of science-based discovery, rooted in the enhancement of life. At the forefront of this movement is patent-pending KitCore Labs Energy Infusion: an all-natural, electro-magnetic molecular process that produces therapeutic benefits inside the human body.

This proprietary process turns everyday materials into Wearable Organic Technology, offering significant benefits to the user. Our technology gently alters the amplitude (height) and intensity of the low-energy waves that are already naturally emitted from inside target materials at the molecular level.

Our technology is rooted in solid science. Exploring the Psy-Tek labs website (www.psytek-labs.com), as well as the California Institute of Human Sciences (<https://www.cihs.edu>), shows the foundation of KitCore Labs Energy Infusion Technology for scientific re-assurance of energy medicine, research, and application of this technology.

KitCore works very closely with Mayer Pharmaceutical Labs in Phoenix (www.mayorlabs.com), and Spray Labs in Phoenix (www.spraylabs.com). Mayer is the mother company of Vitamist sprays.

Regarding the frequency of our tech... KitCore Energy Infusion falls somewhere below the cell phone frequency – a very, very low energy band. Founder Dr. Stephan “Kit” Taylor discovered a way to integrate this low energy frequency that works ideally within the human body.

We also tested our Energy Infusion through Ball Aerospace Labs in Denver (<http://www.ball.com/aerospace/markets-capabilities/capabilities/testing>) for safety... providing a wealth of test data on our website. (<https://www.kitcorelabs.com/pages/the-science-behind-the-next-generation-smart-product-revolution>)

This application is what KitCore’s Provisional Patent is supporting. We simply took what is already present in the world that is an organic reality. KitCore Energy Infusion Technology is found in many of nature’s habitats including the oceans, waterfalls, running rivers, wind storms, growing plants, etc. We simply redirected the same energy into the clothing and ultimately into the human body... generating a multitude of therapeutic human benefits.

KitCore Labs is at the forefront of a huge consciousness shift. Many major corporations are already pursuing the inclusion of energy producing material into clothing they offer to the public.

Our technology is superior to anything else on the market... better in three distinct ways:

- 1) We make it cheaper.
- 2) It is a more effective energy infusion technology.
- 3) It's easier to introduce into quality products anywhere in the supply/fulfillment production chain.

This is the scientific and logistical foundation for achieving our prime objective: building productive relationships between dynamic visionary brands and KitCore Labs Innovative Energy Infusion Technology.