

Resource 21: Staff views on acceleration for very able pupils

Name:
Do you think that very able pupils should be allowed to skip a year?
Can you explain your reasons for this?
Do you think that there could ever be any exceptions? If so what conditions would have to apply?
If you support the idea of acceleration for very able pupils at what age would you advocate starting the process?
Who do you think is in the best position to decide how a very able pupil will learn best?
Who should be consulted on the decision whether or not to accelerate a pupil's education?