WRIST SIZING GUIDE

How to Measure Your Wrist Size

For best results, please print out this page. Before printing, be sure to check the “print actual size” option from Adobe Acrobat Reader in the print dialogue box to ensure that it prints to the correct size. Bulova’s Wrist Sizing Guide should be printed on a full letter size (8 1/2 x 11 inches.) page. To check that the Wrist Sizing Guide has been printed properly, take a ruler and measure the printout—it should measure exactly 8 inches

Cut out the paper Wrist Sizing Guide and follow the instructions below.

Place the watch graphic on the top of your wrist, then wrap the ruler completely around your wrist in a comfortable fashion where the bracelet/strap is to be worn. Make sure that the numbers are on the outside of the paper Wrist Sizing Guide. Loosen or tighten to the desired fit, align it to the “measure up to this line” callout (directly below the watch face graphic), then write down the measurement. The number that lines up with the edges of the Wrist Sizing Guide is the size of the wrist.

You can also use a tape measure but if you don’t have one, use a small piece of ribbon or cord. Wrap it around your wrist and measure the length against a ruler.

Please note there may be some small sizing differences due to bracelet construction: link versus strap styles. In cases where a bracelet cannot be sized to your exact measurement, we will size to the next larger size. For women, the standard size is 7 inches. For men the standard size is 8 inches.

Bracelet Sizing Policy

Bracelet sizing is provided to the measurements you supply as a one-time courtesy, free of charge. We will do our best to provide a finished product that matches the measurements, but there may be variables that we cannot control, and there is a chance the final fit may not be as accurate or comfortable as it might if done onsite directly with local jeweler.

Any links that are removed or added during the sizing process will be included in the shipment with your watch. Sizing requests may delay the shipping by approximately one day. Watches sized by Bulova at the time of purchase will not affect the return policy. If returning your watch for any reason, you must return it with any/all links that were removed during the sizing process. We cannot accommodate requests for additional sizing that may be needed, or compensate for any costs if you opt to have additional resizing done by a local jeweler.
