

Alpaca Will Be There

My dear little one,
I'm right here for you.
When you have big worries,
Alpaca's here, too!

Alpaca's a creature
that loves and supports all the kins that they know through hard times of all sorts.

There are lots of hard things of all types and kinds like a hill or a mountain that you have to climb.

You might skin your knee,
you might trip and fall, but I know in my heart you'll get through it all.

You can put on a bandage, you can stand yourself up...
You can get through the challenge no matter how tough!

If it's ever too much,
I'll help you get through,
challenging times
that make you feel blue.

When your family seems down or you face problems of your own, I promise I'll never,
ever leave you alone.

You can say what you need,
you can let it all out.
Sharing your feelings is what strength's all about!

Sharing with loved ones helps you get through hard things and enjoy the good days that life also brings.

So whether your day
feels on or off course, I know you'll get through;
you're such a strong force.

Hard times aren't fun,
but they help to show just what you're made of
and how you can grow.

With your strength, my dear,
I can already tell,
any hard time you face, you'll handle it well.

When you need a reminder that you can go on,
say these words with Alpaca to help you feel strong!

I can do hard things, and get through tough days.
I am strong and supported in so many ways.
