

DUAL CARRY POSITION

Please practice safe baby wearing at all times. These instructions are intended to supplement the Owner's Manual by serving as an online reference. For complete instructions—including warnings, limitations of use, and product care—please refer to the Owner's Manual provided with your carrier.

ATTENTION: The Dual Carry Position is intended for one child per carrier. Never place a child in the front carrier if the back carrier is empty. Both children must face inward. The child in the Back Carry must have strong and consistent head control. Do not exceed 35 lb (15.8 kg) per carrier; consult a qualified physician about personal strength limitations.

BASE CARRIER

1st Child

- ✓ Back Carry Position
- ✓ 4+ months with strong, consistent head/neck control
- ✓ Heavier child in back, if more than 3 lbs difference

1. Place the Base Carrier on your back with the shoulder straps around your shoulders like a backpack. Pick up the Attachment Carrier by the waist with the warning label facing you. If necessary, unthread the Waist Buckles from the Waist Loops. Connect the Waist Buckles on each side to join the two carriers. Adjust the four waist straps to center each carrier on your front and back; if necessary, fold Waist Flaps to create a snug fit.* Wrap the Safety Elastic around the Waist Buckles. Slightly loosen the shoulder straps and waist straps to accommodate rotating. Remove the shoulder straps from your shoulders.

2. Rotate carriers so the Base Carrier is on your right hip but still behind you. Place the first child on your right hip facing you and centered over the Base Carrier. While holding the child with your right arm, use your left arm to bring the Base Carrier up and against your child's back. Reposition your right arm so your hand is on the outside of the Base Carrier.

3. While the child is still supported with your right arm, lean forward slightly, reach behind you with your left arm and place your entire arm through the left shoulder strap. If you cannot reach the strap, it was not loosened enough during Step 1.

4. While still holding the child with your right arm, use your left arm to reach across your body and pick up the right shoulder strap; the child should be secure in the carrier. Then place your right arm through the shoulder strap.

5. Lean forward, with both hands carefully rotate the carrier so your child is centered on your back. Your child should be seated low in the carrier, his head upright and not slumping.

6. Stay leaning forward, with your right hand hold the left shoulder strap and use your left hand to tighten the nylon strap by pulling straight back. Switch hands to adjust the right shoulder strap. The carrier should be snug enough to provide proper back support for your child. If it is too loose, your child will slump or lean backward. Be careful not to overtighten.

7. Buckle and tighten the Chest Strap to ensure shoulder straps are securely positioned on both shoulders. Tighten the Waist Belt for a snug fit with no gaps.

* Infant and Toddler Combination: If you find it necessary to wear your infant higher than your toddler, independently wrap each carrier's Waist Belt all the way around your waist to provide the appropriate placement for each child.

ATTACHMENT CARRIER

2nd Child

- ✓ Front Carry Position
- ✓ Must weigh at least 10 lbs
- ✓ Lighter child in front, if more than 3 lbs difference

8. Reach for the top-left buckle of your Attachment Carrier and fasten it to the buckle on the Base Carrier's left shoulder strap. Wrap the Safety Elastic around the fastened buckle and thread the excess strap through the elastic.

9. Place the second child on your right hip facing you, with legs in an open position. While supporting the child with your right arm, slide the child's leg through the Attachment Carrier until his bottom is centered and low in the carrier with his legs equally extended on either side of the carrier.

10. Supporting the child with your right arm, move your left arm around the back of the child to support him with your entire arm. With your left hand, reach for the top-right buckle on the Attachment Carrier; with your right hand, guide the buckle on the Base Carrier's right shoulder strap into the buckle in your left hand. If you find it difficult to fasten, lengthen the straps on both sides of the buckle. Wrap the Safety Elastic around the fastened buckle and thread excess strap through the elastic.

11. To tighten the Attachment Carrier, use one arm to slightly lift the child and your other hand to pull down on each strap. Ensure the padded shoulder straps remain balanced on your shoulders between the front and back carriers. The Attachment Carrier should be snug enough to provide proper back support for your child but not so tight that it pulls on the Base Carrier. Verify that the child in the back is comfortable and that the Base Carrier has not been overtightened.

12. Place the Safety Belt between your stomach and your child's stomach; keep the belt below the nipple line. Fasten the Safety Belt buckles to the Attachment Carrier's buckles located on either side of the pocket. Adjust straps for a comfortable fit.
