Frank, as he is commonly referred to by his peers, is a self-taught artist. Born and raised in Kibera, Frank remembers receiving awards while in primary school due to his outstanding performance in art competitions. He ventured into pencil drawing before joining Uweza Art Gallery where he has since mastered his craft with acrylic on canvas. Although Frank has tried his hands on a couple of styles, portraits seem to dominate his portfolio. He is constantly attempting new techniques and learning through the internet on how he can improve and borrow ideas from other seasoned artists. He has participated in group exhibitions organized by Uweza locally, in the US and UK.
