

Harvest Right Startup Guide

Please review all of the following information carefully to ensure a smooth receiving and setup process with your freeze dryer.

Receiving Your Freeze Dryer

Official disclosures from Harvest Right:

Important: In some cases, Harvest Right has had freeze dryers damaged during shipment. You should never accept a shipment if the box OR its contents are damaged. Even if the box that contains the freeze dryer shows no signs of damage, your shipper MUST wait while you unpack and examine your freeze dryer. This only takes a few minutes.

By signing the delivery slip you are agreeing that the unit was shipped to you in good condition. If you notice any marks or damage to the packaging, please inform the driver to note the marks/damage on the appropriate documentation. DO NOT accept delivery if there is noticeable damage to the packaging or the freeze dryer.

Note: If you have special shipping instructions or live in a rural area where a semi-truck may have an issue delivering the machine to your property, please contact the shipping company IMMEDIATELY with your tracking number.

Oil Pump Maintenance

The following information is specifically for oil pump maintenance and advice:

Filtering the oil after every batch is the best way to keep your pump healthy. Your pump will not have to work as hard and your batches will finish quicker than those who do not regularly care for their pump.

Type of Quilt Batting

Polyester - 1 in. 1 lb.

It is typical quilt batting that is used to stuff pillows or stuffing quilts and can be purchased at Walmart or anywhere.

Important Links & Introduction

PurePressure or Harvest Right will provide a tracking number when your unit has shipped. Due to demand, please allow up to 10 business days for your freeze dryer to ship, or up to 20 business days for Scientific models. The shipping company will contact you about a day in advance to schedule with you a delivery time, this way you can sign for the shipment.
