

NEW GIN

We were looking forward to the launch of the new Boadicea Gin, just as we were going to press. Hand crafted in East Anglia (the land of the Iceni, the ancient British tribe led by Warrior Queen Boadicea), the gin is distilled from Norfolk barley. Fittingly, the soft launch took place at Caistor Hall Hotel, situated in the village of Caistor St Edmund, near Norwich, previously known as Venta Icenorum and founded during the AD 60s.
