

Summer sippers

Two Norfolk distillers have new drinks on the shelves in time for summer. Boadicea Gin is the creation of husband and wife team Matt and Steph Brown, the people behind Wild Knight English Vodka. Steph says: "We are distilling it using Norfolk barley as a base and infusing it with delicious botanicals like nettle, which dates back to Icen times." The gin comes in a blue bottle; one for the woad, as it were.

Meanwhile The English Whisky Co at Roudham have released The Norfolk Farmers, a single grain whisky limited to a run of 1981 bottles. They also have another limited edition commemorating the birth of Prince Louis of Cambridge.
