How does VocaLinks fit into Workplace Accommodation?

We provide technology hardware, software, and training programs for individuals who work with computers and require accommodation to complete their daily tasks. Our passion is ensuring that all employees have the right tools to enable them to stay at work longer or return to work faster.

Our Process

We have over 20 years of experience working with computer technology to support disabilities, and have developed a start to finish process that enables our team of consultants to support individuals and organizations in implementing accommodation programs.

Analysis

Discussion with employer's accommodation team to determine the needs of the employee based on our Preliminary Survey questions.

Implement Solution

Recommendations of hardware and software that are compatible with the employee's current computer specifications.

Training

Development of an on-site training program that coincides with the employee's needs and provides one to one instruction for the software and hardware that is required.

Ongoing Support

Online, phone, and email support from VocaLinks instructors and technicians to address any issues that arise when using the software and hardware.
