A HERITAGE BREED, RAISED ON REGENERATIVE FARMS

The Gloucestershire Old Spot is an English breed dating back to 1790, known for its ability to produce flavorful, succulent pork with generous fat and marbling. In fact, it was the gourmet's breed of choice until pastured pork fell out of favor with the rise of industrial agriculture. Our GOS pigs are raised on family farms in North Carolina that practice Regenerative Agriculture. They roam freely outdoors on lush pastures, and have plenty of space to embrace their natural instincts and interact with each other.
