A Sustainably Sourced Oil

Another mint-infused hair hero: Kreyòl Essence Haitian Black Castor Oil ($20). Unlike the castor oil you might pick up at the drugstore, this one is made with castor seeds sustainably harvested on a farm in Haiti. The traditional processing method means the oil is extremely high in ricinoleic acid, which shuttles omega 6 and 9 fatty acids to the scalp for better hair health. Use it on dry hair, to repair split ends, or as a deep conditioner – and enjoy the rosemary-mint scent as you do.
