COMMUNITY FEATURE

We are so happy to introduce you to OwlCrate Jr's newest team member, Babs Allen! Babs has been a part of the community for several years as a photo rep and an avid middle grade bookstagrammer, and now she is helping curate all the fun items we include in the box.

Hi Babs! What are you reading right now? I just finished reading the last book in the Frostheart trilogy by Jamie Littler. I can't say enough good things about this series! The illustrations alone make the reading experience worth it, but the story is so unique, heartwarming, and fun, I could not recommend it more. It's definitely one of my top favorite middle grade series!

When you're not reading, how do you like to spend your time? I love writing, drawing, taking photos, and generally just making things! But for the most part, my free time is spent playing and reading with my two boys. They're almost old enough to start reading my collection of OwlCrate Jr books, something I'm really looking forward to.

What has been your favorite OwlCrate Jr item that you've seen from the idea stage to reaching our subscribers? That's a tough one! I honestly love everything we've come up with these past few months. But if I had to choose, I'd probably say the Ultimate High Five Enamel Pin Set. The thought of kids sharing their high five pins with their best friends brings an enormous smile to my face.

If you could jump into any fictional middle grade world, where would you go? Nevermoor, hands down! I didn't even have to think about that one. If I could stay at the Hotel Deucalion, meet Jupiter North and Fenestra the Magnificat, and visit the Gobleian Library, I would be the happiest bookworm in the world!
