

Blue, River, Wren, and Shenli grew up on different sides of a war they didn't start. Their land has been torn apart over centuries of conflict, with humans taught to fear all things magical, dragons driven to near extinction, and magic under attack. But an ancient prophecy has put the four of them on a collision course with destiny—and with each other—in a mission to heal the fractured realm once known as Haven.

1. Which of the Four Heroes do you most relate to and why? Which of the Four Heroes is most opposite of you, and do you think you could still be friends with them? Why or why not?
2. Would you enjoy the ability to smell emotions? Why or why not? How could you use such a skill?
3. Where in Haven would you most like to visit, and what would you do when you arrived?
4. Were there any parts of the story when you felt one of the Heroes made an unwise decision? If so, when? What would you have done differently?
5. If you had to choose between having a dragon companion or a Magic companion, which would you pick and why?
6. Blue learns that all dragons have magic abilities. If you were a dragon, what magic abilities would you want to possess?
7. Wren feels like she doesn't fit in with her community. Have you ever felt that way? Can you talk about a time that you wanted to belong but felt like you didn't?
8. River and Wren both have a special connection to their grandmothers. Do you have a family member that you feel a special connection with?
9. Shenli makes a decision that he deeply regrets. Have you ever regretted a choice you made? If so, what did you do about it afterward?
10. Do you have a favorite character from the story? If so, who is it, and why are they your favorite? If they were going to visit Earth, what kinds of things would you want to teach them about Earth life?
11. One of the main themes of this story is kids from different parts of the world working together for the greater good. Some of the characters, such as Wren and Shenli, are even natural-born enemies. Do you think it is believable that kids with such different backgrounds can learn to be friends and work together? What would the challenges be?
12. If you got the chance to ask Megan Reyes one question about Heroes of Havensong, what would it be?
