

SLEEPING PAD STRAP INSTRUCTIONS

Our quilts are designed to pair with a sleeping pad to provide insulation from the ground and a comfortable sleeping surface. We provide two sleeping pad straps to secure the quilt to the pad.

Each strap contains one male and one female clip on the ends to secure the strap around your sleeping pad. There are also two male clips in the middle of the strap used to secure the quilt.

First, follow the steps below to prepare your sleeping pad straps for use:

- Feed the loose end of the strap (1) with the female clip (2) through the bottom opening on the female clip (you should have two layers of strap going through the bottom opening).
- Once through, tighten the loop as much as possible so you end up with a small roll of strap at the bottom of the female clip (3). Your strap is now secured and ready for use. Repeat the same process for the second strap.

Next, secure each strap around your sleeping pad by connecting the female and male clips (4). Position the straps in your desired location (5) and tighten securely around the pad.

Adjust the location of the two male clips on each strap that are used to attach the quilt. Push them closer together for a tight fit during cold nights. Move them closer to the edge of your sleeping pad for a looser fit during warmer weather or if you prefer more room to move around.

Finally, secure your quilt to the sleeping pad by attaching the female clips on the quilt to the male clips on the straps (6).
