

COFFEE TRANSPARENCY REPORT

2021

We are proud to hold a number of long term relationships with coffee producers. We have worked with many of them for over 10 years. As a result we know each other well and value the relationship we hold. Because of this we plan and buy our coffee far in advance. For our 2021 coffee program, we had booked all our coffee by December 2020.

As a result, we were able to weather the unforeseen environmental challenges which happened over the course of 2021.

In July 2021, Brazil experienced the worst leaf frost seen in over 28 years. As the biggest coffee producing country, not having its usual coffee crop volume available to buy caused prices to sky-rocket not only for available Brazilian coffee but also other coffee producing countries who became much more in demand.

The leaf frost not only wiped out their 2021 crop but will also affect the 2022 and 2023 crops as the lasting damage to the trees continues. So whilst we booked our coffee early for 2021, our prices have been impacted for 2022.

Whilst on the whole we escaped the impact of the leaf frost for 2021, it did impact us to a degree when we went to buy coffee from Peru in late summer. The price was severely impacted and much higher than previous years. We also had to work hard to find Peruvian coffee which was of a good enough quality. Because of the exceptional demand, producers were selling poor quality coffee beans which had not spent enough time on the drying beds. This led to a lot of very poor quality coffee being on the market which we wanted to avoid.

COVID also continued to impact us in 2021. Where normally coffee containers take a month to ship from their country of origin, in 2021, they were taking twice as long to arrive into UK ports. This meant a big challenge to ensure we always had enough coffee available in the UK for our customers to buy. Making sure we never ran out of coffee was our biggest focus.

As always, the biggest reason we were able to weather these challenges were our direct relationships with our coffee producing partners. And this will continue to be the reason in 2022 and beyond.

This report represents 100% of purchased coffee in 2021.
